

Test Prep

Chicago Public Schools does not recommend, endorse, or sponsor any test preparation courses, study guides, or sample questions for selective enrollment admission exams.

The admissions exams used for the selective enrollment programs are designed to assess your child's academic capabilities or reasoning and thinking skills. The Office of Access and Enrollment has not seen any direct correlation between students' acceptance rates in Selective Enrollment Schools and their participation in courses offered by test preparation companies.

Please note that our department receives feedback each year from parents whose children participated in a test preparation course and were not selected for any of their school choices.

Let the buyer beware.
